BECOMES MINISTER OF ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Induction Of Rev. I. B. Kaine Took Place Thursday — Impressive Service — Has Been Active In Ministry.

(Contributed by H. G. M.)
These promises are fair,
The parties sure,
And our induction full of
Prosperous hope.

St. John's Presbyterian Church, Grimsby, that beautiful stone edifice which lies in the shadow of the picturesque Niagara Escarpment as a lasting memorial to those Presbyterians of the District who have kept the faith and which like the century-old emblem of the Church, the Burning Bush, still burns brightly, was on Thursday the scene of a very impressive induction service when Rev. Irving B. P. Kaine, B. D., was inducted as minister of the church according to the age-old Presbyterian custom by members of the Hamilton Presbytery upon the unanimous call of the congregation of St. John's.

The auditorium of the church was crowded with members of the congregation and friends to witness this important event in the history of the church and at its conclusion to extend best wishes and a welcome to Rev. Mr. Kaine, Mrs. Kaine and their family.

The Interim Moderator, Rev. W. I. McLean and Rev. Mr. Ross, Moderator of the Hamilton Presbytery were in charge of the service. Rev. Peter A. Dunn, of Hamilton, delivered the important charge to the congregation which charge still carries with it that same impressiveness as it did in days gone by. Whether delivered in beautifully appointed churches or in axe-hewn log churches of our ancestors the words of the charge counsel the listeners, whether of high or lowly stations as to the important duty that we as children of the dust owe not only to our church and minister but to God Himself and admonishes all to attend the place of worship and to hearken to the teachings of his holy law and to prepare for His coming.

An impressive sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. McInnes, of Hamilton. The important duty of delivering the charge to Rev. Mr. Kaine fell upon the able shoulders of Rev. Dr. Banks Nelson, and why not? Was he not the man who organized those in Grimsby faithful to the church following Union? And how beautifully he did it with the impressiveness of the solid kirk, with words that seemed to echo from the stone walls themselves and to re-echo from the lofty place admonishing Rev. Kaine to be mighty in the Scriptures. The words that accompanied this command were drawn to give a lasting impression upon the mind of him, to whom they were directed, and served to bind the charge to the congregation and minister together — namely, faithful to the Church and mighty in the Scriptures.

Rev. Mr. Kaine first saw the light of day in Huron County near the village of Hiyth and his parents, Rev. C. C. and Mrs. Kaine now reside in Seneca, being born in a home that always preserved the family altar dear to the hearts of the early Christian. Young Kaine first received at the knee of his mother, that foundation of the love of God upon which he has built his career. Following this early education he attended the famed country school, played hockey, teased the girls with ribboned-bedecked hair, and took his turn at the woodpile. His higher education, he received at the Collegiate Institute of Clinton & Essex. His theological training in the University of Toronto and Knox College along with post graduate from Union Seminary, New York. During his courses at college he specialized in Religious Education.

Since graduating, Mr. Kaine has had charge of three town churches. His first church was St. Paul's in the town of Englehart, at that time the church farthest north in the denomination where he did constructive work under the Board of Missions. After a short time in the north he accepted a call to the Presbyterian church in the town of Orangeville. Under his leadership the membership was trebled and in three years the church rose from the status of an augmented charge receiving a large grant to a self-supporting congregation.

Over six years ago he was called to First Church in the town of Seneca where he continued to labour for the Master until his resignation last September to take post graduate work in the University of Toronto.

Hewson And Son Making Own Basket Bottoms This Year

In order to provide the season's supply of basket bottoms for their operations during the coming months and to furnish as much employment as possible to their employees during the winter when their plant is not ordinarily in operation, Messrs. A. Hewson and Son, basket manufacturers, this year embarked upon a new venture by installing special machinery so as to enable them to manufacture their own basket bottoms which are not now so readily obtainable and which in consequence have considerably advanced in price.

Ten carloads of Jack Pine which is used in the manufacture of basket bottoms were purchased in Northern Ontario and shipped to Grimsby where it is being converted into basket bottoms by a staff of about nine men who otherwise would be unemployed during the winter months.

In the manufacturing of the basket bottoms the pine is first sawed into the proper lengths and stapled together by a stapling machine, the bottoms being then finished off and completed in the finishing machine at the rate of 2500 a day, 22 passing through the machine a minute. A total of 500,000 bottoms will be made during the period from December 1st to March 15th when regular operations in the making of baskets will again be commenced.

In order to accommodate the large quantity of basket bottoms being made an additional building 30x50 feet is being erected on the premises, the storage facilities in the main buildings being inadequate to store all the bottoms.

It is understood that fruit trees in the district have so far come through the winter in excellent shape. If favourable weather continues prospects are promising for a good fruit crop which in turn would ensure an increased demand for the output of Grimsby's basket factories.

PEACH KINGS DEFEAT ST. CATHARINES CRYSTALS

Grimsby Peach Kings, O.H.A. Intermediates, trounced St. Catharines Crystals by 7 to 2 at the Grimsby Arena Tuesday night.

In the first half of the schedule Crystals were undefeated and tied but once, and that by Peach Kings. Peach Kings presented Ted Hand on left wing. Hand returned from Florida in the week-end to take his place on a badly weakened team. Reid scored one goal and assisted in four others to make himself high scorer.

Duffield scored on Reid's pass in six minutes of the first period. Hand took Duffield's pass five feet in front of the net ten minutes later to give McGregor no chance. Stewart scored the third goal in a scramble around the net in three minutes of the second. Reid skipped a rolling puck past McGregor for the Kings' fourth goal five minutes later. Lawson put Peach Kings five up when he broke away with no one to beat after five minutes of the final period.

Armstrong scored the visitors' first counter on a pass from Hault, while Hillier was in the penalty box, seven minutes later. Crystals' second and last goal came with three minutes to go, when Ingles flicked a hard shot past Coupland on Bell's pass. Thirty seconds later Duffield scored from right boards on a pass from Reid. Reid made the play for the local seventh goal again in thirty seconds when Stone took his pass to shoot it into the net.

Mr. Harry Oakes of Niagara Falls recently presented a handsome set of twelve volumes of Smithsonian Scientific Works to the Grimsby High School. They comprise a useful and valuable set for the High School Library and the Board of Education is highly appreciative of the generosity and thoughtfulness of the donor.

CARD OF THANKS

Constable James Wentworth and Mrs. Wentworth desire to express their sincere thanks to many friends for their thoughtful inquiries and to the school children for the lovely plant sent during Mr. Wentworth's illness.

PRESENTATION TO REV. MR. KAINE

Made Recipient Of Handsome Ministerial Gown By Choir Of St. John's Church — Interim Moderator Receives Gift Of Case.

Proceeding the induction service held in St. John's Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening last members of the congregation and friends, at the supper hour, gathered around tables set in the basement of the church where a large number partook of the appetizing spread provided by the ladies of the church.

A short program following the supper with the Interim Moderator, Rev. W. I. McLean of Hamilton, presiding, was featured by addresses of hearty good will towards St. John's Church and its new minister, Rev. Mr. Kaine, by visiting ministers, including Rev. H. Merritt, Rev. Dr. Chene, Rev. Mr. Ross, Moderator of the Hamilton Presbytery and by Rev. Banks Nelson.

Advantage was taken of the occasion by the choir to present Rev. Mr. Kaine with a handsome gown. Mr. David Thompson, in making the presentation on behalf of that organization, said in part: "We all know that clothes do not make the man, but we fully realize that a ministerial gown adds to the dignity of the pulpit and the members of the choir have purchased this gown to be used by you during your ministry here with us. If your ministry should continue in Grimsby long enough to wear it out we will gladly buy you another."

Beautiful plants were presented to Mrs. Kaine and to Mrs. W. I. McLean, wife of the Interim Moderator, by Mrs. Stephenson, President of the Ladies' Aid on behalf of the congregation while Rev. Mr. Merritt, on behalf of St. John's congregation made the interim moderator, Rev. Mr. McLean, the recipient of a handsome case in appreciation of his services in filling that position.

Mr. H. G. Mogg commented the ladies on the fine spread provided and commended their activities in behalf of the church.

AWAY BACK WHEN

By FRANK FAIRBORN, JR.

How long has Grimsby been Grimsby? was a question asked not long ago. But the answer was not readily forthcoming. Grimsby township was first known as "Township No. 6" and was then designated until 1796. But the question was intended more as to the designation of the town—when it became a postoffice.

Just how the inhabitants of the district got their mail previous to 1817 we have as yet been unable to trace, but in that year the postoffice of Grimsby was established—over 118 years ago. William Crooks was the first postmaster, and it is probable that the office was in the Village Inn building for as near as can be learned William Crooks erected this building and had a store there. For twelve years Mr. Crooks had the postoffice—until 1829.

In 1829 Henry "Vellie" was appointed. This is the name on the records, but as it is a name we do not meet with in other records of those days, so feel quite sure it should be Nelles, and the office was probably at Fitch's corner, Main and Gibson avenue. He held the office for thirteen years.

On October 4, 1842, Robert F. Nelles was appointed and he probably continued in the same place until the Rodan building was erected about 1855, as it is an established fact that the next postmaster was located there. This was J. Adolphus Nelles who was appointed on Jan. 1, 1858. He held the office for nearly ten years being succeeded on Oct. 1, 1867, by H. E. Nelles.

Just what years it was in we are uncertain but for a couple of years H. E. Nelles had the postoffice in the Village Inn building, and afterward in the store of E. J. Palmer at what is now 29 Main street west, where it remained until about 1862. It was then moved to the frame building that stood where the present postoffice is. H. E. Nelles died in office and Mrs. Nelles succeeded him on July 1, 1892, and held the office until her death; the office being in that family for approximately thirty-two years.

On April 1, 1899, Wm. Forbes succeeded in getting the postmastership and removed the office to his store now occupied by C. P. Brown at 36 Main street west. An agitation had been going on for some time for a postoffice building to be erected by the Federal government and the government took action in 1913 when the present structure was put up. David Allan was appointed to the position on March 13, 1915, and still retains the office.

Statistics are not available as to the volume of business done, but up to 1900 it is certain that the work was handled by two people — and short hours at that.

At the present time thousands would be a fair estimate of the yearly business done at Grimsby postoffice, and there are four people engaged in handling the work.

The Niagara district is specially rich in historical lore and much has been written of the doings of the early pioneers, but in this article we believe will be found a bit of history that effects the whole of Canada, and as yet has received but little mention. Canada, and particularly Ontario, is noted the world over for the good quality of cheese manufactured, but very few people know that the cradle of that industry was in the township of Clinton a couple miles east of Beamsville.

In 1833 John Kilborn with his wife and eight children started from New York state to make a home in the bush near London, Ontario. After many days the travel-weary family reached the home of Dr. Cyrus Sumner in the township of Clinton, and stopped to rest for a time. Dr. Sumner (who was the grandfather of the late Cyrus S. Nelles of Grimsby), was himself originally from Hebron, N.Y., and made his former neighbor welcome in their new country. While stopping at Dr. Sumner's the Kilborns became acquainted with Jacob Beam, Jr., and he learned that Mrs. Kilborn was somewhat of an adept in making dairy cheese. Foreseeing the possibilities of the industry in the rapidly settling country Mr. Beam offered Mrs. Kilborn 200 acres of land (lot 8 concession 3 and 4 Clinton) north of the Houser farm, well stocked with cattle, in return for a share in the industry, and here in the same year they moved, Mr. Kilborn starting a tannery and shoe manufacturing business and his wife in cheese making. Apparently a house was already on the premises, and the Kilborns built a covered-in cellar for the curing of the cheese. This cellar is still to be seen though the rest of the buildings and the farm have undergone many changes.

It is not easy in this age to realize the difficulties under which Mrs. Kilborn labored. Probably the house or perhaps an added shed was used as a workshop, and it is possible that she had brought a few of the smaller things necessary in the work, but an abridged description of farm cheese making will serve to show that there was much work to be done and many things to be brought long distances. From the quotation at the end of this article it will be seen that several months elapsed before there were any tangible results from the labor, but in about a year a load was made ready and taken to Niagara town, St. Catharines then being but little more than spot on the map, and the cheese added for those for the further manufacture of the product. Dundas then too was a thriving town and the next load was taken there and good prices obtained though the returns were mostly in goods. And as the modern farmer would look at it, the thirty odd miles of trip would be worth the load of cheese—but the Kilborns were not modern spoon-fed. After a few years with regular trip to markets the Kilborns bought the cows from Mr. Beam, and again a few years later purchased the farm.

But this pioneer industry was not long alone. When the success of it was seen a factory was started at Ingersoll, and then another at Peterboro, and as these factories became more numerous, Mrs. Kilborn went out of the business. But not from lack of field, but more on account of advancing years, and the death of Mr. Kilborn.

John Kilborn was born near Albany, N.Y., on Feb. 2, 1772, and died March 4, 1845, aged 71 years. Mrs. Nancy M. Kilborn was born March 9, 1777, and died September 20, 1854, at the age of 77 years, and both are buried in the Baptist cemetery at Beamsville. Of the sons Harmon went to Carolina, Adolphus to Wisconsin. Rowley died in Beamsville in 1890, and Cyrus in 1906 aged 63, and his wife in 1888.

Purple Suits, "High Yaller" Shoes and Pea-Green Headwear

Chicago.—The average male, who swapped his tail coat for a pair of overalls back in 1929, is going gaudy about his clothes and it's a sure sign of better times, the National Association of Clothiers and Furriers decided last week.

Most men "dress down" to hard times but when prosperity returns they take a feather from the peacock's tail, according to P. B. Juster, who heads the Association's style committee.

"But this year," Juster added, "the peacock will look like a weather-beaten swain in comparison to the giddy man."

Suits, shirts, ties and hats will shine with color—purple suits, pea-green headwear and shirts striped like the rainbow. Even "high yaller" shoes will be quite swanky.

Red underwear is coming back—not the old-fashioned itchy kind but crimson trunks and shirts of fibre silk.

Lots of leisure taught men the comfort of sports clothes with their slurred backs and loosely draped trousers. The same wind-blown comfort is being demanded in business wear.

"All clothes will be looser fitting more comfortable—and a razor-edge crease down the trousers is distinctly passé," Juster said.

"You can go around in trousers that make you look like you're getting ready to jump and still you'll be stylish," he added.

The favored materials for men's suitings—at least among the manufacturers—are rough tweeds, chevrons and homespun.

Bannerman Ges Brockville Post

Ottawa.—W. R. Bannerman has been appointed collector of customs at Brockville, Ont., it was announced recently at the Department of National Revenue.

Dr. Dase Heads List Of Leading Doctors

Minneapolis.—A roll of 25 men, regarded as having made the greatest contributions to medical science during 1934, was announced recently by the periodical Modern Medicine.

Most prominent in the list, published annually by the medical news magazine, was Dr. Allan Roy Dase of Callander, Ont. Honoring Dr. Dase, the publication said:

"A country doctor; for his work in keeping the Dionne quintuplets alive. His example did much to restore the general practitioner to a high place in public esteem."

One London Store's Sales $927,258 In Day

London.—An indication of the popular optimism about business here is to be found in a statement issued by one London departmental store to the effect that a recent single day's sales amounted in value to £199,812 (about $927,258).

Minimum Wage Law For Newspaper Staffs

Washington.—A minimum weekly wage of $15 and a 40-hour work week for news department employees were proposed recently by the American Newspaper Guild in an NRA hearing on amendments to the Daily Newspaper Publishers' Code.

The Guild offered its proposal as a substitute for one submitted by the code authority which would establish minimum wages of $12 to $35 for news workers.

Conditions in Industry, Aids for Producer to be Studied

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Conditions in the livestock industry and suggestions for remedial measures to alleviate the poverty of the primary producer will be considered by the Royal Commission on mass buying when it resumes its public sessions here today. W. B. Somerset, Ontario marketing commissioner, will continue the evidence he began on Friday.

Whether the commission will wind up its hearings during the present week is problematical. Several more witnesses and reports have yet to be heard. There is, however, a disposition on the part of the commission to speed up, having regard to the fact that much of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's social reform policy awaits the report and recommendations of the commission.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OF $6 A WEEK FORECAST

Federal Government to Make Substantial Contribution and Carry Cost of Administration—Plan Calls for Financial Structure of $50,000,000 Annually—Farm Hands, Fishermen, Lumbermen and Professional Class Excluded at First.

Ottawa.—The creation of an annual fund of $50,000,000 to be disbursed over the year to the workers of the country suffering from enforced idleness, is the prime object of the Bennett Government's unemployment insurance bill.

The measure was before the federal cabinet Saturday and received the approval of the full ministry, preparatory to its introduction into the Commons on Tuesday of this week.

In addition to its main purpose, as set forth above, other of its general and salient features, as learned from authentic government sources, are:

Its benefits to individual adult workers during their period of involuntary idleness will average around $6 per week.

The weekly contribution which the worker will be called upon to make to the fund in order to qualify as a beneficiary will be in the neighborhood of 30 cents per week. The employer will furnish a similar share and the Federal Government will make a substantial contribution, and also bear the cost of administration—which has been found in the experience of other countries to amount to about 13 per cent.

The scheme will not apply—in its initial stages at least—to agricultural workers, to fishermen or to lumbering and logging. Similarly, professional workers will not be included.

ISSUE OF CONSTITUTIONALITY. Apart from the foregoing actual provisions, the measure, when it is introduced on Tuesday, will have a particular interest as raising the broad question which stands at the very heart of the Bennett Government's new program, namely, its constitutionality.

Does the British North America Act present a barrier to social and economic reform? That, specifically, is the broad question mark which lies behind all the legislative proposals which the government has outlined for the present session in the Speech from the Throne. It is the question which Right Hon. W. L. M. King, Liberal leader, raised in his speech in the debate, and it was echoed by J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader.

The unemployment insurance measure will be the first concrete answer which the government has given so far to this question. In it the ministry will take the view that the constitution—as far as unemployment insurance at least is concerned—is no barrier to reform. And if the government can maintain this attitude with respect to the unemployment insurance bill, opinion on Parliament Hill is that it will not only have opened up a new chapter in Canadian constitutional history, but will also have gone a long way in smoothing out the legal difficulties from the remainder of its reform program.

It is no secret that legal opinions rendered to the Government during the King administration declared unemployment insurance to be a project which could be carried through only with the co-operation of the provinces. The fact that the Bennett ministry is now flying in the face of these opinions is interpreted in parliamentary circles, accordingly, as indicating its intention of discovering the limits of Federal authority, and of attempting to blaze a new trail of Federal jurisdiction over the problems of essentially Federal character created by the economic evolution of the recent years.

Increase In U.S. Living Costs Seen

Administration Favorable To General Rise In Values Lessening Difficulty Of Paying Debts.

Washington.—The New Deal recovery chart forecasts a substantial increase in the cost of living by June 1.

President Roosevelt has told conferees that a rising scale of living costs will be accompanied during the first six months of this year by a general increase in values which will lessen the difficulty of paying debts.

The Administration is favorable to increased prices, and plans ultimately to attempt price stabilization at some level so far undisclosed and probably undetermined. There is no official justification so far for assuming that Mr. Roosevelt's objective is stabilization at the 1926 price level.

Official upward trend forecasts are conditioned on the hope that the United States Supreme Court will decide the Administration possessed constitutional authority when it abrogated the gold clause in private and governmental securities.

Democratic politicians generally predict a favorable court decision. They base their judgment largely upon a famous remark:

"Trade follows the flag and the Supreme Court follows the election returns."

Further dollar devaluation does not figure in Administration expectations that living costs will increase in the next six months and perhaps for two or three years thereafter. The dollar is to remain at its present $9.86 gold value pending international discussion of currency stabilization.

Increased employment, a greater volume of business turnover and the expenditure of Mr. Roosevelt's $4,000,000,000 recovery and relief fund are expected by New Dealers to carry prices to a higher level without further cheapening of the dollar or recourse to printing press money.

The trend of living costs is indicated by Labor Department statistics on wholesale prices. Latest figures for the new year reveal the highest level of wholesale commodity prices since January, 1931, the department uses the average of 1926 prices as an arbitrary index of 100. On that basis the index for the week ended January 12 was 78.5, a point off from the preceding week, but 7 points higher than the corresponding week of 1934.

The index figures reflect prices generally, including food, textiles, fuel, metal, building materials and house furnishings.

There has been a general upward movement of living costs since the spring of 1933. The National Industrial Conference Board estimated that living costs in 1934 were 7 per cent greater than in 1933. A rather more rapid advance this year is expected by some well informed persons.

Increasing volume of retail and wholesale trade, ranging from 10 to 25 per cent, compared with the corresponding period of last year, have been reported for the early days of the new year. There are forecasts that retailers are about to enjoy the best spring season since 1930.

Sub-Zero Grip Holds Ontario Over Week-End

Near Record Low Levels Reported from Numerous Municipalities—Jobless Man Frozen.

Toronto.—Sub-zero weather maintained its paralyzing grip on Ontario over the week-end.

Many municipalities in both the northern and southern halves of the province reported near-record low levels for early Sunday.

Seventy-year-old George McGregor of Kildara Drive, Scarborough, was found frozen to death on his kitchen floor, with half a ton of coke within a few feet of his ice-cold stove. Many fires attributable to overheated stoves and furnace explosions, gave Toronto firemen a busy 48 hours. Sunday school classes were closed in St. Mary's Church, London, because of the prevalence of colds and sickness among teachers and pupils.

Temperatures throughout the north ranged from -41 to -52 below. South Porcupine had a night minimum of 58 below, with Froquois Falls next in line with 55 below. White River and Sudbury checked in with 51-below marks, while Englehart posted 46 below. Swastika reported 45 below weather, and North Bay 41 below.

In Southern Ontario, St. Marys saw the mercury down to 39 below, at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, the coldest cold spell of the winter to date, there. London reported 18.6 below, although contending that because of "the clear still conditions" the snap was not felt as badly as previous sub-zero spells. St. Thomas reported 16 below and Stratford and district 14 below.

In Ottawa, where Thomas Cooper was picked up unconscious on the streets, with arms, hands, legs and feet badly frozen, it was 15 below, although farmers living 10 miles north of the city limits claimed a low level of 25 below at five in the morning.

From Orangeville, however, the record drop for old Ontario was reported. Here, the mercury registered 24 below at 3:30 a.m., although it rose steadily after that hour to reach zero level at ten o'clock. Ice cutters report taking out blocks of 20 inch thickness.

United Kingdom Still Desirous Of Securing More Canadian Trade

Senior British Trade Commissioner Says Present Trading Balance Should Be Levelled

Montreal.—Considerable room exists for expansion of United Kingdom trade in Canada. F. W. Field, His Majesty's Senior Trade Commissioner in Canada, told a Montreal service club recently.

Mr. Field outlined the increases in trade between Canada and the United Kingdom following the Ottawa agreements, but said Britain's sales in Canada had increased only 19 per cent, while Canada's sales in the United Kingdom had risen 80 per cent. "Trade balances should be properly levelled," he said.

A definite movement in both countries was under way to overcome the present disparity in the trading balance, however, Britain wanted to buy in Canada wherever possible and Canadians were also favoring British goods to a greater extent than before, Mr. Field declared.

International trade would be greatly increased, Mr. Field stated, if other nations followed the example of Canada and Great Britain and signed trade agreements. The more this was realized the greater would be the volume of international trade.

How Not To Advertise

Anybody who has fathomed the art of advertising knows that there must be appeal in the attempt to obtain and keep customers. There are many advertising mediums in which it is costly to advertise. There are others in which it pays to advertise.

There are some advertisements which never advertise. Their effect is to antagonize prospective buyers. You get most of them over the air waves. The idea of radio directors is not to coax customers, but to offend them.

The air is overloaded with offensive commercial screams. The broadcaster tries to shout the prospective customers away instead of interesting them. Any recognized advertising media could advise radio advertisers they cannot get value for their money with long-winded pronouncements which offend and bore the listeners.

People look in radio for amusement, entertainment or instruction and forgive some advertising intrusions, but the bawdies shouting and hot air barker of lengthy stuff creates an animosity against the product supposed to be advertised. He is dialed out mighty often.—Brandon Sun.

Radio Sets Close To Million Mark

Ottawa.—By the end of the fiscal year on March 31 there may be close to a million radio receiving sets in Canada. Up to the end of December 769,925 licenses were issued. As a rule the last three months are the heaviest owing to delinquents paying their licenses, plus the new installations.

March 18 Is Set For Trade Deal

March 18 is the date set aside for American industry and the producers of basic products to register any protests they may wish to make against the proposed Canadian-American trade pact. Until the objections are in, and there is nothing to indicate that they must be confined to one day, it will be difficult to measure the progress which may be made towards a freer interchange of products across the international border. The trade pact announcement was barely a few hours old before Washington announced that it had already had protests from United States livestock producers. Now the dairy and fishing industries have likewise raised their voices against any infringements upon what they consider their rights to retain the American market strictly to themselves. No similar date has been fixed in Canada for hearing the viewpoint of Canadian industry or the producers of basic products, but industry is already laying plans to make its representations to the Ottawa Government.

In the meantime 15 other trade pacts are being worked out at Washington under the Roosevelt mandate of last June. Some of the agreements, according to statements from Washington, are almost ready to be announced. It is generally known that, according to authority of Congress, President Roosevelt has the power to lower tariffs by 50 per cent; but it is not known whether the changes are to be of a major or a minor nature. The first major trade announcement to come from Washington under the Roosevelt mandate will accordingly be of material importance to Canada. It will indicate if President Roosevelt is ready to make real tariff concessions in the hope of speeding up international trade, or if the concessions are to be of such a minor nature that no real trade improvement can come to the second party to the pact. It will suggest, at the same time, whether Ottawa's bargaining with Washington is apt to develop significant trade a success.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Canada Fighting For League Seat Fears Exclusion From Permanent Place In Labor Bureau

Geneva.—Conflicts over the permanent status on the governing body of the international labor organization will mark the first official appearance of the United States as member, League of Nations officials said last week. The labor bureau announced that Theodore Lubin, of the Washington department of labor, will represent the United States at the session opening January 29.

A minority report, it was revealed, already has been presented by the Canadian representative, Dr. Walter A. Riddell, concerning the method of designing the eight chief industrial states to become permanent members of the governing body.

On the basis that the United States and Russia, new members, rank with the eight leaders, Canada and Belgium stand in danger of being forced off the board, and Dr. Riddell wants the annual labor conference to pass upon that question.

Regina.—Quick thinking and ingenuity on the part of Dr. R. C. Riley, laboratory chief at Regina General Hospital, appears to have averted the amputation of both hands and feet of Walter R. Rodney, 40-year-old Regina found lying frozen in the snow.

With odds and ends of laboratory equipment and the aid of a flashlight, Dr. Riley quickly assembled a defrosting apparatus and with permission of hospital authorities and the patient's physician it was put into service.

The apparatus covers the frozen members and the air is withdrawn, creating a vacuum. Heat is applied and the vacuum slowly draws out the frost.

British Are Building 70-Passenger Plane

London.—Imperial Airways is building a 70-passenger air liner, whose outstanding characteristics are to be speed, utility, safety and comfort. It was learned recently.

(Both Pan-American Airways of the United States and Air-France recently experimented with planes of similar size.)

The British flying boat will be completed within 18 months. Speed is obtained by streamlining, less weight and additional motor power, variable pitch propellers and retractable landing gear.

Safety measures include blind flying instruments, radio direction finder and equipment to permit the use of micro-waves over airports.

BOLIVIA'S ADVANTAGE

SEALING WAX.

The use of sealing wax on letters is a very ancient custom, but it by no means follows that it is entirely suitable to present day uses. The postal employees were angry at its present day use on the back of letters because of the danger from flying fragments of hardened wax to the eyes of the employees. The post office authorities, however, have ruled that "the department knows of no justifiable reason for requesting the public to forego the use of a sealing material which has been in use from time immemorial, and which, as far as the department is aware, has no substitute."—Moncton Transcript.

"War alone brings up to its highest tension all human energy and puts the stamp of nobility upon the peoples who have the courage to meet it." So decreed a Premier of Italy, the ruler of Italy. A terrible fallacy. Canada proves it so. From the close of the War of 1812-14 with the United States to the outbreak of the World War of 1914, Canada enjoyed practically one hundred years of peace. Then came the World War of 1914. From our small population of six hundred thousand Canadians became soldiers—and those who did not enter battle proved that there were no better soldiers in the world.—Ottawa Journal.

GREATEST SEAPORT.

When people think of big British seaports they instantly call to mind Liverpool and Southampton, therefore, it may surprise them to learn that London is Britain's busiest seaport by a long way.

During the year ended October 31, the net tonnage using London was 58,632,212. Liverpool was a poor second with 32,505,658, and Southampton third with 25,367,560. Then came Hull with 11,000,000, although no large liners call there, being on the east coast, and fifth place was occupied by Manchester with over 7,000,000, which is pretty good for a port that is 35 miles from the sea to which it only has access by a man-made canal.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

PRAIRIE FRIENDLINESS

Prairie neighborliness has become a byword throughout Canada. It has been thrown into new and still brighter relief in these years of economic ordeal. This personal helpfulness has become an institution in the west.—Regina Leader Post.

Kindness and Cruelty

Kindness and cruelty appear to be relative terms, and wholly dependent on habit. One hears no complaint on the part of Chinese wives, because their husbands never kiss them. Doubtless they would complain if their husbands did. Sir Richard Burton, the famous English linguist and traveler, relates that he once met a dusky maiden, in one of his expeditions, who bewailed with bitter sobs the loss of her husband's love. He wished to know why she thought it was lost. Well, it had been a long time since her husband had given her a beating.

Car Loadings Off Sharply

For End of Year—Decrease Of 11,780 Noted In Ottawa Figures

Ottawa—Car loadings on Canadian railroads for the week ended December 29 amounted to 29,324 cars, as against 29,300 cars for the last week of 1933 and 41,114 cars for the previous week, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. This decrease of 11,780 cars was considerably greater than the normal and the index number dropped from 71.29 to 62.98. It is possible that the Christmas holiday falling on Tuesday had a greater reducing effect than in 1933 when the holiday was on Monday.

Total loadings for the 52 weeks amounted to 2,319,936 cars in 1934, 2,031,978 cars in 1933, 2,175,825 cars in 1932 and 2,575,450 cars in 1931. Total loadings of grain and coke were lighter than in 1933 by 107,451 cars, or 25.5 per cent., coal was up by 52,199 cars, or 19.6 per cent., merchandise by 34,561 cars, or 6.8 per cent., ore by 22,082 cars, or 47.3 per cent., pulp and paper by 18,138 cars, or 23.1 per cent., other

Sees Great Wealth In Arctic Circle

Canadian Club Speaker Paints Vivid Picture Of Far North

Toronto.—Smashing the popular illusion that the North Pole is nothing but a barren waste of ice and snow and prophesying that Canada's dream of a rich and powerful Empire in the far north is going to come true, Richard Finnie, F.R.G.S., spoke at a recent meeting of the Canadian Club.

The speaker, who was born in the Klondike, within a stone's throw of the Arctic Circle, painted a vivid picture of a country, which, he believes, is going to offer a tremendous source of wealth and power to the Dominion. Within a few years, he prophesied, villages and towns will spring up right across the entire polar circle and these will form the nucleus of a new Empire with endless possibilities due to its natural resources and undiscovered mineral wealth.

Describing the recent and remarkable mineral discoveries in the Great Bear Lake district, Mr. Finnie strongly denied that transportation still offers an insurmountable problem in this district.

"The popular belief has been that the only way to get the minerals out of this district is by airplane," he said, "and mining experts have figured this cost to be too expensive. But this summer the Hudson's Bay Company and the Northern Transportation Company, have been arranging new and modern methods of river transportation."

Paralysis

Its Control Or Prevention Is Still Believed Far Away

No means of controlling or preventing infantile paralysis or poliomyelitis has yet been found, Dr. W. Lloyd Aycock of Harvard reports. He thinks little of protective vaccination. Even with an effective vaccine there is no satisfactory method of determining which children should be vaccinated.

Most of us are immune to infantile paralysis because we have had imperceptible mild doses of it. Dr. Aycock would like to select the susceptible. Tests would have to be made among the very young. Even here there would be uncertainty. Few children would prove to be immune, yet many would develop immunity without contracting a violent case of the disease.

Dr. Aycock believes that the key may lie in heredity. By studying family histories it might be possible to learn more about the nature of transmitted susceptibility. Ultimately the relatively small portion of the population most likely to acquire the disease could be selected. To this small portion preventive measures not feasible for the entire population might be applied.

Royal Bank of Canada Presents Strong Statement

Morris W. Wilson, President and Managing Director, Notes Distinct Improvement in Business — Looks Forward to 1935 With Confidence

Sydney G. Dobson, General Manager, Reviews Financial Statements — Reports $50,000,000 Increase in Deposits

At the Sixty-fifth Annual Meeting of The Royal Bank of Canada, held in Montreal, Morris W. Wilson, President, and Managing Director, paid tribute to the distinguished service rendered to the bank by Sir Horst Holt, who had presided at successive Annual Meetings for over a quarter of a century, and whose outstanding ability and prestige have been important factors in the sound and consistent growth of the bank during his regime.

In commenting on the strong statement presented to the meeting, Mr. Wilson said that it reflected a year of operations under distinctly improved conditions, both at home and abroad.

Referring to the recent revision of the Bank Act and the Act incorporating the Bank of Canada, he stated that while the public hearings preceding these enactments were able to justify their administration, he warned that the curtailment of earning power resulting from restrictions upon interest rates chargeable by banks and the withdrawal of note-issuing privileges will inevitably reduce the ability of banks to maintain unproductive branches in small communities. Banking profits have never been excessive, and if an efficient banking system is to be maintained, there is a point beyond which enforced economies to meet falling revenues on one hand, and increased taxation on the other, cannot safely be carried.

Referring to taxation, Mr. Wilson said:—

"For every dollar paid in dividends last year we paid sixty-seven cents to the Canadian tax-gatherer. This does not take into account the income tax paid by our shareholders themselves on dividends received from the bank. Surely these figures require no comment."

In discussing the improved conditions in Canada, Mr. Wilson pointed out that during the past year manufacturing and employment have approximated the levels of 1932; iron and steel production, the output of automobiles, textiles and electrical energy had increased and the rise of exports notably lumber and minerals, had advanced substantially. The wheat crop was no larger but, fortunately, higher prices prevailed. The value of gold exports had increased over $100,000,000 and the enhanced purchasing power of the farmers had stimulated trade throughout the country. There has been increased demand for Canadian mineral products and it is anticipated that the output of Canadian gold mines will exceed $100,000,000, as compared with $85,000,000 in 1932. The building boom in Great Britain created unprecedented demand for Canadian lumber and a record volume of shipments has been made during the past year. He mentioned the importance of the fur trade to Canada, which had amounted to over $300,000,000 a year and for several years brought more money into Canada than our wheat exports.

Newsprint. "Demand from the United States for newsprint has been strong, with the result that the output of the Canadian mills in 1934 was more than twenty-five per cent. higher than in the previous year. In fact, it was within five per cent. of the peak year of 1928. Prices, however, were even lower than in economies operations have continued in 1933 and, despite the most rigid use on an unprofitable basis.

The Railway Situation. "The railway situation continues to be the most important economic problem in Canada. Obviously, the Canadian people cannot stand indefinitely a weekly drain of over $1,000,000 for railway deficits, and the time is rapidly approaching when more drastic and effective action will have to be taken if we are to maintain national credit and solvency."

Referring to world affairs, the President said that in spite of some critical situations during the past year, business has continued to prosper. Production in Great Britain and several other countries is greater than in 1933. "It is only the countries of the gold bloc which business has become materially worse. During the year, World Trade, however, must be released from the morass of new restrictions which we are among the worst products of the degeneration. Excessive economic nationalism has proved a dangerous weapon, striking down home industries as well as those of foreign countries. I believe that the pendulum of opinion has begun to swing toward better economic relationships between countries, and I look upon this new attitude as a happy augury of further favorable developments during the coming year."

The Capitalistic System. "It is not surprising that new social experiments should have been undertaken in many countries in the hope of mitigating the sufferings of the poor. The Capitalistic System, however, is a system of individualism and competition, and it is not surprising that it should have been undertaken in many countries in the hope of mitigating the sufferings of the poor."

Mr. Wilson pointed out that all banks in Canada, because of their easy cash position, are looking for desirable loaning business, and the comparatively small increase under this heading reflects a lack of demand for loans, rather than a restriction of credit.

"Profits for the year were $4,386,217, but are not properly comparable with published profits for the previous year because, heretofore they were reported after deducting Provincial taxes, but before Federal taxes. For the sake of uniformity, and the fuller information of shareholders, both classes of taxes are now disclosed in the published report. Making allowance for the resulting increase under this heading, profits are lower by $253,448, leaving $4,132,769 to be carried forward in Profit & Loss Account, after the usual deductions for dividends, taxes, etc."

In keeping with the downward trend in interest rates and the resulting difficulty in employing funds profitably, the bank and most other institutions accepting deposits reduced their rates on interest-bearing accounts by 1% from November 1, 1934. This has had a beneficial effect upon bond prices, and has helped to reduce the cost of Dominion and Provincial financing."

Mr. Dobson made special reference to the satisfactory results achieved by the branches outside of Canada and the valuable assistance they have given to exporters in the development of their trade in the countries where the bank is represented. In conclusion, he said:—

"On the whole, 1934 may be regarded as a year of substantial recovery for Canada. While we still have many problems to solve, we for I believe, every justification in looking forward with confidence to a further improvement in conditions during 1935."

"The only way to wage a successful campaign is to have an absolute 'why'."—Irene duPont.

Spells "Olibanum" And Wins Contest

(New York Times.)

High school teachers, economists, business executives and an editor were spelled down in Town Hall by Sam Pope Brewer, a reporter on the New York Herald Tribune, in a spelling bee between college and non-college teams.

John H. Cowie of the Town Hall Club, which has been staging the contests annually for three years, gave words from Phye's "5,000 Words Often Misspelled," and after they seemed too easy he turned to a special list culled from Webster's unabridged dictionary.

There were about twenty contestants on each side, about the same number of men as women. "Apparel" tripped a woman on the non-college side as the first victim. Then Miss Mabel Goodrich, an editor at Macmillan's, went down on "beleader."

"I'd have sworn there were two 'a's' just as in 'vellum,'" she said as she came out of line.

"Chevron" eliminated another woman. She spelled it "chevron." Then Ted Brannigan, an engineer for the Public Service Company of New Jersey, blushed and said "pass" when he got "diocese." He was out.

In the audience women trying to be helpful were making signs with their mouths in attempts to save floundering contestants, but they gave the wrong letters as often as they gave the right ones.

Mrs. Doris Webster, who wrote "I've Got Your Number," a book on self-analysis, and whose husband is a grandnephew of Mark Twain, went out on "aberration." She spelled it with two "b's." A. E. Goodhue, vice president of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, put an "e" in luxuriant and went to the sidelines.

The New York Times reporter spelled "domineer" without an "e" and was counted out.

Mrs. Maud Nathan, a cousin of Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo of the United States Supreme Court, who had stayed through a long list of the more difficult words, stumbled on "bivouac," but she recovered in time to pull through. She went down eventually though, on "sylvan."

Joseph Alsop, who was reporting the match for the Herald Tribune, slipped on "dyeing"; he left out the "g." "Frolicking" eliminated Victor Whitlock, a lawyer—he left out the "k"—and "myrmidon" eliminated another contestant on the college side.

By this time only college entries were in the bee—Mr. Brewer, representing Yale; Miss Lou Helmuth of the University of California, who teaches in a New York high school; Miss C. R. Trowbridge, a graduate of Smith College, who teaches at George Washington High School and wrote, "Constructive Spelling," a school textbook; Miss Martha Allen, a graduate of Syracuse University who teaches English at Julia Richman High School, and O. P. Pearson, an economist employed by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

They took some staggering words without a quiver, but after a while Miss Trowbridge went out for omitting the second "i" in vinaigrette. Mr. Pearson misspelled "vivisection."

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Earsol (double strength) and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

ture" and Miss Allen spelled "venous" with an "i" after the "o." Neither Mr. Brewer nor Miss Helmuth could spell "planxty," which is "an Irish melody for the harp." But that was explainable, for every one in the room thought the reader was calling out "planked steak." On a vote the word was eliminated from the contest.

"Ophiogram" was easy for Mr. Brewer, and Miss Helmuth took "opodeldoc" in her stride. Both missed on "oneirocritic," although Mr. Brewer got it on his second try. "Olibanum" was too much for Miss Helmuth. She spelled it with an "e." Mr. Brewer spelled it properly and the match was over.

Quebec To Extend Mortgage Holiday

Quebec—Because of the serious state in which Quebec property owners are the Quebec Government has decided to extend its moratorium on mortgages for another year, it was announced from official sources last week.

It was rumored that besides making this decision the cabinet had discussed the imposition of a tax on chain stores. It was impossible, however, to obtain confirmation of the rumor.

Your Best Soil Conditioner

Lime is absolutely essential in many soils to promote best growth. Lime makes available to plants the potential food contained in the soil. This is accomplished by the improvement of the mechanical condition of the soil, by improving drainage and by neutralizing soil acidity.

The use of Lime, in short, results in a more open, porous soil; better tilth; better drainage; a warmer, quicker seed-bed and increased crop production.

AERO LIME

98% Calcium Carbonate

Ground limestone—carbonate of lime—is the most economical and convenient form of lime for the Canadian farmer and grower. Aero Lime, quarried at Beachville, Ont., is rich in calcium carbonate and is, therefore, of unexcelled agricultural value. During the winter season is an excellent time to apply lime. Aero Lime is shipped in 80-lb. bags or in bulk. Extremely low prices are now available in car load lots. (Government pays one-half the freight charges to Ontario points). Write for full information and prices on Aero Lime.

Social and Personal

Miss Grace L. Stephen, of Haliburton is visiting with friends in Grimsby for a few days.

Her many friends will be pleased to know that she is now fully recovered after an illness of nearly two years and that she expects to resume her studies at Queen's University in the near future.

Miss Doris Bromley of Toronto, well known in Grimsby, was guest soloist at an interesting function in Toronto recently when Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts was honored by the Canadian Authors' Club on his birthday. Mrs. Harrison, whose pen name is Seranus and Marshall Saunders and many others prominent in the Literary world were among those present. Miss Bromley was given a most cordial reception.

Misses Sadie Phipps and Margaret Fisher were joint hostesses at the former's home at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Durham, who were recently married, on Thursday of last week. Bridge and euchre were enjoyed for several hours after which dainty refreshments were served. The young couple then opened the many lovely gifts from a prettily decorated basket. Both Mr. and Mrs. Durham suitably acknowledged the gifts and best wishes from their many friends.

The annual convention of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association is to be held at the Welland House on Thursday morning and afternoon and the programme will be repeated on Friday at the Masonic Hall, Grimsby. A programme of practical interest has been arranged for the meetings.

Considerable damage was done in the boiler room of the Grimsby Rose Company's Greenhouse on Sunday, January 20th, believed to have been caused by a short circuit. Although there is a large crop of tomato plants in the greenhouses at the present time they escaped injury as the temperature did not fall below the freezing point.

SPORTGRAPHICALLY SPEAKING

By Boone

Readers of this half-baked column are not going to get much knowledge to assimilate from this writer this week, as his arch-enemy John Q. Piu has had him on the narrow of his back for the past five days. He had him so bad that he could hardly talk, and boy when that happens, it's something.

President Olroy of the C. A. H. A. has issued his final verdict. Hawse Marsh and Red Farrell are definitely suspended by that august body. Olroy does not say that they cannot play with the Tandy league. Sure he would, because he has no control over that league. But he does say that any men registered and playing with O.H.A. teams and also playing in the Tandy-dandy-Yandy group will be automatically suspended if they play against Marsh and Farrell. This red headed kid and his goal tending buddy have sure been the cause of a lot of controversy throughout Canada, but when you stop to think of it, you never heard a great concourse of race goers ranting, raving and using expletives over a broken down selling plater that only won one race in his life. The crowd always sticks with a champion and a winner.

Through all this ruckus and fuss I am glad to see that my old sparring partner, Old Bill Fry, King of the Mudcats on the Grand, has kept the hem of his pink flannellette nightgown out of the muck. Bill is a wise old owl. He never screeches until he actually has something to screech about. Bill knows his hockey players and hockey situations better than any man in Canada, unless it be Uncle Bill Hewitt. With all this Big Bertha bombarding going on the past two months little has been heard of Old Bill. He knows his Better 'Ole and he stayed in it. But when all is said and done and the smoke of battle has finally cleared away and the boys are all back in the fold and everything is peace and quiet on the stormy seas, who will be the Captain standing on the bridge commander of the whole situation. Old Bill, Navigator Extraordinary, the Schooner Mudcat.

CONGRATULATIONS!

HARRY "PIO" REID

Game, brainy, gentlemanly centre ice player and captain of the Grimsby Peach Kings who has been highly honored by his fellow citizens of Beamsville, by his recent appointment as Village Clerk as Treasurer and Superintendent of Works. All the sport fans in the raft fell in in showering felicitations upon the colorful little athlete upon his appointment which is a mighty popular one to his great legion of fans.

Speaking of Night Owls. In his Own Column, in the Beamsville Chronicle, Old Bill, two weeks ago told a tale about the trou he and Sheriff Paxton and T. J. Muen of Toronto had over the nocturnal wearing apparel during a trip Winnipeg to attend an annual mag of the A. A. U. C. at which time Bill was elected President of the A. H. A. Disgraceful, he is sent the prey of the A.A.U.C. It's a funny story, but we wonder if remembers the night that he and Sheriff Paxton staged a night parade in the King Edward hotel the night the Peach Kings licked living day.

OBITUARY

Althea E. Beamer

The death occurred in the Hamilton General Hospital on Friday morning last of Althea E. Beamer, a life-long resident of North Grimsby and Clinton townships. The deceased lady was in her 34th year.

Born in North Grimsby on February 2, 1879, she was a daughter of the late John F. Beamer and Elizabeth Mainland. She had been a practical nurse for many years, having been ill for only about ten days.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Harry Anderson, Hamilton; Mrs. L. W. O'Reilly, Hamilton; Mrs. Maurice Udell, Grimsby and Mrs. Donnelly Winnipeg, Man., and two brothers, Frank Beamer, Calgary, Alta. and Earl Beamer, Grimsby.

The funeral was held from the Stinchhouse funeral home on Sunday afternoon, Rev. A. Refosse of Beamsville, conducting the services. The following were bearers, Messrs. Harry Sturch, Harry Anderson, Maurice Udell, L. W. O'Reilly, W. Piner, Peter Graham. Interment was made in Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

Wallace Samuel Lewis

Wallace Samuel Lewis, son of the late Benjamin Lewis, of Hamilton, died Sunday at his home, King street east, Stoney Creek, at the age of 64 years. He was a native of Hamilton, and leaves to mourn, his wife and one son, Laverne, at home. The funeral was held from the L. G. Wallace funeral home on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, thence to Hamilton cemetery.

Mrs. J. M. Roderick

Mrs. J. M. Roderick, a charter member of the Women's Institute at Stoney Creek, and a resident of that place all her life, died suddenly Thursday morning, January 24th, at the age of 56 years. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Roderick was Miss Jessie Gertrude Davis, a member of a United Empire Loyalist family. For many years the deceased lady had been active in the affairs of the Church of the Redeemer at Stoney Creek, belonging to the Women's auxiliary. She had many friends in the community to whom her passing will be deeply lamented. Surviving are her husband; four sons, Evan Roderick, of New York; Dr. J. Homfray Roderick, in Ancaster, and Thomas H. and Kenneth B., of Stoney Creek; a sister, Mrs. Alfred Jones, in Fruitland, and a brother, W. H. Davis, former city treasurer. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon from her home, Lake avenue, Stoney Creek, to the Church of the Redeemer for service at 3 o'clock. Interment was made in Stoney Creek cemetery.

Lights out of the Boo Greyhounds. They were not alone in that parade, but this much can be said for them, they had their night gowns on.

Looks like Hawkeye Hwayze is in the money again. The way that Kirkland Lake team of Millionaires is winging to town almost ensures them a place in the play-offs of the N.O.H. A. and from the dope bucket I extract the fact that Coach Steve Vair is confident that he will win the league championship and then come south to show the O. H. A. senior "B" boys what a real team looks like. Since his kid days, when he took Old Pop McVicar as his example of a hockey player, Hawkeye has either been on a championship team or one that was right up in the play-offs. Hope he comes through for the sake of Andy and Sarah.

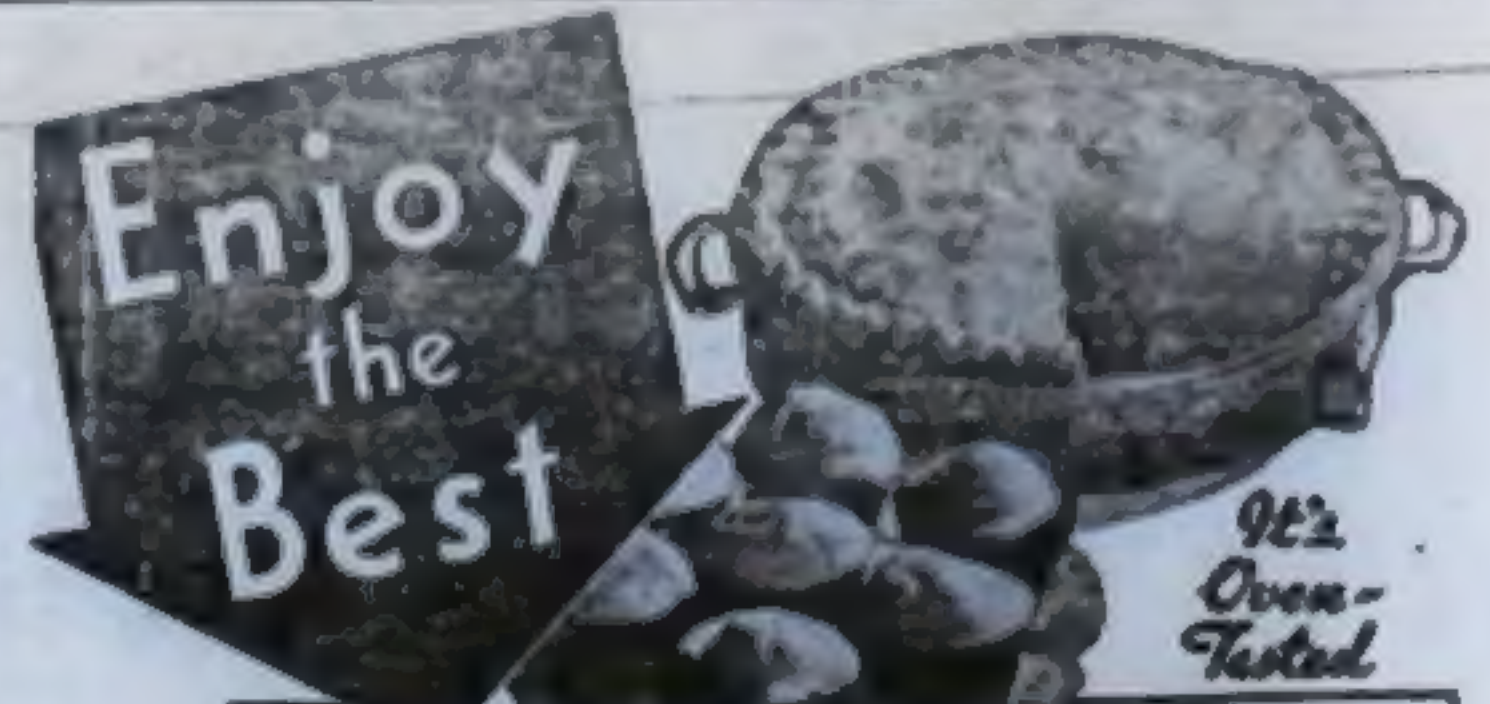

There has been a considerable amount of space used the past week by papers over the receiving by "Headline" Hollett, rookie defence-man of the Toronto Maple Leafs of a letter from his home town in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, signed by the Mayor and town council and almost every able-bodied man, woman and child in the municipality, congratulating him upon his success with the Leafs and wishing him continued prosperity. That was a tribute from the Old Home Town to one of her sons who had gone out in the cold, hard world and MADE GOOD.

Sentiment is a big thing in a small place. In a big city it is practically unknown. An unfortunate thing. Every little burg, hamlet, village and town, watches its kids grow up and speculates on what they will do and what they will become, no matter whether it be in business, sport or politics. Grimsby people have always been that way. They always watch the progress, forward or backward of their sons, with regret or pride, as the case may be. It is just one of those unexplainable things in life and life is all the sweeter for it.

Last week I received a letter from an old Grimsby girl, who in her time around The Old Forty was a great hockey fan. She now is happily married and with her small family resides at St. Mary's. She reads this column regularly and writes to ask me can I tell her what have become of all the boys that have worn Grimsby hockey colors since the opening of the Arena in January of 1922. I can and I will in the next issue of this paper. Folks, there is the old town sentiment coming to the surface again even though the writer be far from the field that gave her birth, nurtured her and sent her forth into the world.

ST. ANDREW'S W. A. MEET

Pettit; second vice, Mrs. Unwin; reporting secretary, Mrs. Yennet; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jose; treasurer, Mrs. McConachie; Dorcas secretary, Mrs. Thornhill; literature secretary, Miss Walsh; living message secretary, Mrs. H. Howard; pres. of the Junior, Mrs. A. Chivers; pres. of the babies' branch, Mrs. Unwin; thank offering secretary, Mrs. Conneys, delegates, the Misses Walsh and Softley.

WOMEN'S CHATTER

By Mair M. Morgan

Crime Cause!

We have all at some time or other witnessed the trouble bridge breeds in marital relations and now Professor John W. Curran of the De Paul University Law School, speaking at a conference on crime and its cures, declares:

"The passion for contract bridge and other pleasures is leading American parents to neglect their children, leading them into consequent disregard for law and order, and often criminal careers."

That is a strong statement to make and puts it up to parents in no uncertain terms.

Cold In Blanket

If you are one of those people who enjoy contrasts, here is one. Seat yourself before a roaring fire on a windy cold night and visualize this:

Adam Yakamovitch, a trapper builds too big a fire and his cabin is razed to the ground.

Seeking shelter, his feet wrapped in strips of a blanket and his shivering form folded in another he struggles 24 miles before reaching a Hudson Bay outpost.

Man's endurance is marvellous and the North Country breeds them strong.

Food Fads Exploded

Along comes another professor who jeers at diet fanciers. Speaking to Sydney, Australia housewives, Professor Herbert Priestly debunked the idea that fish formed a brain food.

He placed eggs and tripe high in the scale of nutrition, but oysters, mushrooms and brains low down the scale.

"Vitamins are fashionable just now," continued Professor Priestly, "important as they are, too much has been made of them. Extensive vitamin concentrates are not necessary as food when a well-mixed diet is taken.

"Sugar is the most readily available source of energy. If a man's diet is devoid of common salt, he will die of starvation. There is no evidence that the eating of large amounts of salt does any harm.

"Soya beans have the biggest protein content of any food, but peanuts are almost as good, raw or roasted.

"Milk is the most valuable single item of food taken by man. In bread and milk man has everything he wants.

"Green vegetables and fruit have little body-building or energy-giving value, but they supply vitamins, mineral salts and cellulose, giving value, but they supply vitamins, mineral salts and cellulose.

"Water is just as essential a food as any other. Two or three pints a day should be drunk. For a person with a normal stomach there are no disadvantages and many advantages in drinking with meals. Digestion is more rapid and complete when liquid is taken in small quantities throughout a meal."

Critical Gallery Sees Tilden Defeat Lott

Big Bill Tilden (left) shown shaking hands with George Lott in Madison Square Garden, in New York, before match in which he defeated the Chicagoan. It was Lott's first match as a professional. Tilden won, 6-4, 7-5. One of the largest crowds ever to witness professional tennis watched this and other matches with critical eyes.

LESSON NO. 40.
RHYTHM, BALANCE, HARMONY.
Rhythm means joint action or movement—a relation and connection of parts, that leads the eye pleasantly through all the details of a design.

Balance means repose that results from a correct arrangement and opposition of the attractions of a design.

Harmony means fitness to purpose, coherence and completeness of forms and idea, the unity of all parts of a design, however different each part may be from the rest when separately considered.

principles, yet contains them all. Fig. 144 has Balance and Harmony as well as Rhythm. Fig. 145 has Rhythm and Harmony as well as Balance. Fig. 146 has Balance and Rhythm as well as Harmony.

Search for and use away examples of these three principles, RHYTHM, BALANCE, HARMONY. Write notes on these examples to assist you for future reference. You may find it a little difficult to note and to separate these three features of Rhythm, Balance and Harmony; but ability comes with practice. You will be surprised to learn how your in-

Fig. 144, 145 and 146 illustrate in a practical way a simple manifestation of Rhythm, Balance and Harmony.

In Fig. 144, the three figures holding the tablet, with each figure in the same position, may be said to be standing rhythmically. In Fig. 145 the central figure is balanced equally by figures in positions similar to other, on either side. In Fig. 146 the figures are all in different position, but they are united in purpose and related in arrangement, and so they manifest Harmony. You will notice that each of these designs, though it represents only one of the three increased interest brings about the facility to note and to see them, understandingly.

Ex. No. 43. Illustrate examples demonstrating the principles of Rhythm, Balance and Harmony, as taught in this lesson. Do not copy the design used in this lesson, originate your own designs.

Questions will be answered in this department. Anyone wishing to receive a personal reply may have same if a 3c stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed with the request. The Art Director, Our Sketch Club, Room 425, 73 Adelaide Street West, Toronto.

St. Louis Burglar Takes Own Photo

This picture is one of the most recent of several burglars who have broken into the fire-shop of Frank Alchale in East St. Louis, Mo., and was made by the burglar as he set off an alarm designed by the owner. Alchale had been robbed 13 times in the last five years, and explained the apparatus to the police when he presented the above photo as reporting the last robbery. The burglar touched off the alarm as he entered, and it opened the camera shutter, set off a charge of flashlight powder to light up the scene, and in addition started several automobile horns blowing to complete the scare.

A New Aid For Cancer?

Radioactive Sodium Probably Too High At Present To Cut Cost Of Treatment.

When the Juliots of Paris announced that they had produced a radioactive form of nitrogen, hope ran high wherever cancer is treated. It ran still higher when Professors Lawrence and Henderson and others in the University of California discovered that sodium can likewise be made radioactive by bombardment.

In this process gamma rays are given off for a time. Then comes stagnation. The gamma rays are "harder" and therefore more penetrating than X-rays, sometimes applied with beneficial results in the treatment of tumors. Sodium can be reduced from cheap table-salt (sodium chloride). If the process of bombardment can become equally cheap, radium, so precious that a few grains of it cost thousands of dollars, would become commercially and medically less important than it is.

Dr. Giocchino Failla, physicist of the Memorial Hospital in New York, which has one of the largest stores of radium in the world and which indirectly aids in all this research, is not so hopeful. "It is impossible to predict what the next development will be," he admits, but "it does not seem likely that artificially produced radioactive substances will be available in reasonably large quantities to be of value in cancer therapy for a number of years."

Although the physicists who have given us the new isotopes (variants of familiar elements) have pointed out the similarity between the rays given off by active sodium and by radium, they would all agree with Dr. Failla. The amount of radioactive matter that can be produced by bombardment of atoms depends on the rate with which projectiles can be fired.

DIFFICULTIES POINTED OUT
The necessary apparatus, which must generate energy that sometimes runs into millions of volts, is expensive. Moreover, the target is a very small amount of matter—little more than a speck. Add to this the difficulty of collecting enough of the charged material for ordinary chemical analysis and the ease of artificial radioactivity in the hospital looks gloomy.

What the cost of artificially radioactive sodium may be no one knows accurately. Probably radium, radon and other naturally active elements are cheap in comparison.

"If the intensity of the bombardment could be increased greatly, appreciable quantities of radioactive material could be produced," explains Failla. "But these substances must be utilized close to the source of supply, so short is their life. It is like carrying water in a leaky bucket. If the water has to be carried far, not much of it will be left. In other words, the radioactivity of the newly discovered variants of familiar elements does not last very long. It leaks away fast. What we need is an artificially radioactive element with a long life. So far none has been found."

AID FOR CANCER RESEARCH
On the other hand, the new developments will aid cancer research indirectly. Henceforth the search for a chemical agent suitable for the treatment of cancer need not be confined to substances that injure the cells of a tumor. Says Failla:

All that is needed is a substance which is retained by cancer tissue to a larger extent than the normal tissues and organs of the body. By itself this substance may be perfectly harmless and therefore without effect on the cancer. However, if could then be made artificially radioactive, or it could become a carrier of radioactive matter. The radiation would destroy the tumor without injuring unduly the normal structures. It will not be easy to find such a substance. Still it is something to have the needs of the cancer specialist stated thus clearly.

"Did you spend as much money before I married you?"
"Why, yes."
"Then I can't understand why your father went on so when I took you away from him."

The Week's News of The Surrounding District

BEAMSVILLE

Encouraging reports from the different organizations of St. Alban's church featured the annual vestry meeting. The financial statement was presented by the people's warden, E. Bradbury, the report of the Junior boys' and junior girls' league by Mrs. S. Gibson, the A.Y.P.A. by Sidney Bradbury, and the Women's Auxiliary by Mrs. Harry Prudhomme. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: People's warden, W. G. Whitmore; rector's warden, H. Banks; vestry clerk, L. G. Ridley; lay delegate, F. Warner. A committee was appointed to devise ways and means of making alterations in the church basement to assure a meeting place for the church organizations or to suggest some alternative. The rector, Rev. E. F. Maunsell, M.A., presided. Rev. Stuart Woods preached his last sermon as minister of St. Alban's church on Sunday. The Baptist church out of courtesy to the departing minister withdrew their Sunday evening service.

WINONA

The annual vestry meeting of St. John's church was held Monday evening of last week, in the church. A. Jagger was chosen vestry clerk for the evening. Mr. Lowe read a letter from the mission of the Good Shepherd, thanking St. John's for assistance. The rector's report showed that there were 313 persons in the congregation.

E. M. Smith, people's warden, read a satisfying report for the past year. The expenditures were very heavy, but the year was ended with a small balance.

Owen Thomas presented to the vestry the report of the Sunday school.

Mrs. Mackay gave the report of W. A., which was satisfactory.

The Junior auxiliary report was read by Miss L. Carpenter and Mrs. Davis read the Chancel guild report.

Short reports were given on the Bible class, Laymen's association and the Wolf Cub pack.

Mr. Oikison was re-elected for three years as lay delegate and Mr. Gerard as substitute. The following sidesmen were elected: Messrs. Kinlock, E. MacKil, E. Hambrook, J. Bradshaw and D. Thomas.

STONE CREEK

Encouraging reports from all branches of the United church were received Wednesday last at the annual congregational meeting, presided over by Rev. Henry Cotton. The meeting was preceded by an oyster supper prepared by the ladies of the church, after which a short program was given by Mrs. Cotton, singing a solo, and Miss Bernice Massey giving a reading. Reports were then presented, the Sunday school showing a balance on hand of $21.00 and an enrollment of 203 pupils. The report of the Young People's society and the Explorers group showed that both organizations had made a healthy growth during the year. The W.M.B. collected $225, and the Evening Auxiliary, $150 for missionary purposes. The mission circle reported $45 collected for the same purpose. The mission band and the Women's association report showed splendid work done by both societies.

Sportorially Yours

By Ian Murdoch

Our own Peach Kings went out and walloped the high-flying St. Catharines Crystals by 7-2 on Tuesday night.

The bigger they are, the harder they fall!

And even the Orville Downey, the Niagara Falls Hustle, the London Armstrong and the Windsor McParland couldn't hold the high-flying Peach Kings in check.

And Coupland in the game who wasn't good enough for Crystals at the beginning of the year!

"Coupy" held the St. Catharines "All-Stars" scoreless for its first 52 minutes of the game.

The St. Kitts "All-Stars" held scoreless for 52 minutes! My, or my, who ever heard of such a thing!

Somebody suggested the following poem after the game:

St. Catharines Crystals lost;
 Was that a part of the plan?
 Surely they're not poorly housed;
 Ours they're just an "also ran"!

And don't forget the information the underground wires carried last week — Peach Kings to win group 2.

But not without a hard battle, you red and white bespangled hockey demons!

Just because you were given the lowdown on the inside information, don't let it go to your head and spoil your chances. I know you can go out there and win over any team in this 'ol group because I've seen you do it. My prophecy about the Port St. Lawrence game was just a test to see if you could stand up under adverse criticism. You've beaten every team in the group convincingly now.

Perhaps that change in housing had something to do with the victory. At least the team did something and didn't just skate around like that first game with the Falls.

St. Catharines was apparently so certain of making a clean sweep of the game that the Standard sent Clayton Browne (Brown to you), their Sports editor, up to make a real write-up on the Crystals slaughter of Peach Kings.

Tuesday afternoon in St. Kitts, so I was told by a St. Catharines player, betting went as high as 5 to 1 that Crystals would double the score in one period that Peach Kings made in the entire game. Oh to have been in St. Catharines Tuesday afternoon!

Incidentally, Ted Hand back in uniform with Peach Kings, adds plenty of punch to the team. He was the second goal Tuesday night, and when Duffield passed the puck over to him in front of the nets, he certainly took no chances.

In case you're interested, Peach Kings don't play again in the Livingston Avenue ice palace until a week from Friday, and then against the Port Colborne Sailors.

as was the case with the Trail Rangers.

W. N. Langdon, treasurer of the church, gave a comprehensive report of its financial condition, among other things, mentioning that over $1,000 had been donated and forwarded for missionary purposes.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the pastor and his wife, thanking them for what they had accomplished. Rev. Mr. Cotton replied suitably.

The election of officers then took place. Elders elected, W. A. Clark, Angus Jackson, W. Clark, J. M. Jackson, D. E. McLeod, N. Widdows; stewards, G. Dawson, R. Johnston, H. Warden, N. Widdows, H. D. Weppler; auditors, Mrs. N. Widdows and Mrs. J. Twaddle.

A request for ten men to go to the northern road camps was received last week by Relief Officer T. Dale, the men to be chosen from among the unemployed of the township and village. The rate of pay, it is understood is 25 cents per hour for an eight-hour day, with 80 cents a day deducted for board.

A strange silence has come over the local mild weather prophets of a couple of months ago since the thermometer dropped below the zero mark.

BECOMES MINISTER OF
ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

The annual report for the last year, when Mr. Kaine was minister of First Church, shows the reception of fifty-four new members, 34 on profession of their faith in church and thirty by certificate.

Mr. Kaine has been Moderator of Presbytery for three terms and throughout his ministry to date, has been convener of Presbytery's committee for Young People and Sunday School.

He has always taken an active part in Young People's work. Under the Ontario Religious Education Council, he organized a boys' camp for the County of Huron which was held at Grand Bend for two years. He was instrumental in promoting the purchase of the David Pierce Memorial camp at Kintail by the Young People of the Synod of Hamilton and London of the Presbyterian church where he had charge of the Teen Age Girls' camp for the first two years.

Quoting from the Huron Expositor, Huron County's leading weekly, printed in Seaforth:

"He is a keen student, a kindly pastor and an inspiring preacher. He is forceful, earnest and eloquent and his messages are delivered in a language that all may understand, which brings them home with force to everyone of his hearers."

"During his stay in our town Mr. Kaine has taken a keen interest and active part in every movement which had for its object the advancement and welfare of Seaforth—A popular member of the Masonic Order and the Lion's Club, it is with regret but with the best wishes of all, that he takes his departure from our midst."

Rev. Kaine is a good fellow well met, and will be a decided asset to our town and like you and me is human; just a plain work-a-day fellow who will share your troubles and your joys.

The Choir of the church under the direction of W. C. Morrison with Miss Isabelle Stewart at the key board, rendered very appropriate numbers at the service.

Anniversary Services

On Sunday, Rev. Mr. Kaine officiated at the Anniversary Services of the church which were largely attended both morning and evening. The services were most impressive, the minister in the morning speaking forcefully on the theme "The Need Of The Church".

In the evening in another inspirational discourse he spoke on the subject, "The Text Book Of Christ." Special music appropriate to the occasion was rendered by the choir.

At the evening service members of the United and Baptist congregations were in attendance, these churches withdrawing their services to worship with the Presbyterian congregation.
